

Scholarships, Bursaries and Prizes - Operational Policy

1. Purpose of policy

1.1 The University awards scholarships, bursaries and prizes to students in order to attract, retain and support its students and to encourage student success. They are typically offered on the basis of merit and/or equity.

1.2 The University also awards various non-funded prizes in the form of commendations and medals to graduating students, to recognise academic excellence.

1.3 This policy sets out the governance arrangements for the establishment, administration and disbursement of scholarships, bursaries and prizes for students. It should be read in conjunction with:

- Scholarships, Bursaries and Prizes: Establishment and Award – Procedures
- Award of Chancellor's Medal – Procedures
- Award of Commendations and Medals – Procedures
- Selection of Students for Commonwealth Scholarships – Procedures
- Research Training Program Scholarships – Operational Policy
- Higher Degrees by Research Scholarships – Procedures

2. Policy scope and application

2.1 The policy applies to the creation and maintenance of scholarships, bursaries and prizes that are University or donor funded, including those promoted by the University which are paid directly to the recipient by the donor.

2.2 This policy excludes State and Commonwealth funded scholarships, bursaries and prizes that are administered externally.

3. Definitions

Please refer to the University's Glossary of Terms for policies and procedures.

Terms and definitions identified below are specific to this policy and are critical to its effectiveness:

A scholarship is awarded primarily on the basis of academic merit and may include additional criteria. A scholarship is usually awarded for more than a single year of study.

A bursary is awarded on the basis of good academic standing, while primarily being focused on addressing financial need or some other disadvantage. A bursary is usually awarded for no more than a single year of study.

A prize is presented in recognition of a student's performance during, or at the completion of their course. The Prize may include a financial reward, voucher, membership or other entitlement. Prize values are generally less than bursaries.

4. Policy statement

4.1 The University is committed to complying with the Higher Education Support Act 2003 (Cth).

5. Principles

5.1 Donor relationships are overseen by the Development Office.

5.1.1 Donor relationships for School-based prizes are the responsibility of the Academic Support Unit on behalf of the School.

5.2 Higher Degrees by Research (HDR) Scholarships are overseen by the Graduate Research School.

5.3 The University seeks to grow its portfolio of scholarships, bursaries and prizes and actively seeks funding through donor/sponsors.
