Marketing and Communications - Operational Policy

1. Purpose
1.1 This policy enables the University to protect and enhance its reputation by adopting a coordinated and consistent approach and creating a coherent, distinctive brand for its representations to external audiences.

1.2 The policy addresses the management of advertising, brand and corporate identity, design, events, marketing materials, media and social media, merchandise, sponsorship, student ambassadors and volunteers, student recruitment and the website, as well as the application of sustainability principles to Marketing activities.

2. Scope and application
2.1 This policy applies to all staff, students and other individuals working on behalf of the University where University funds and resources are being used to represent the University to domestic and international external audiences.

3. Definitions
3.1 Refer to the University’s Glossary of Terms for definitions as they specifically relate to policy documents.

4. Principles
The University’s approach to marketing and communications activities are underpinned by four key principles.

4.1 Protecting the reputation and image of the University is crucial to ensuring the future success as it affects the ability to recruit students and staff, and to attract funding for teaching and research.

4.1.1 To ensure adherence to this principle:
(a) all University staff, students must conduct themselves in accordance with the University’s Staff Code of Conduct – Governing Policy and students with the Student Conduct – Governing Policy;
(b) Government Relations must be consulted prior to any dealings or communications with governments or political parties;
(c) University partners must be guided in their conduct by contracts, agreements or Memoranda of Understanding in accordance with the Management of Contracts and Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) - Governing Policy and Procedures.

4.2 Brand and corporate (visual) identity represents what the University stands for and must not be used in any way that deviates from the approved corporate identity strategy.

4.2.1 To ensure adherence to this principle:
(a) all applications of the University brand, whether produced by the University or third parties, must be checked for corporate identity compliance and approved by Marketing and Communications;
(b) no logos, slogans or tag lines can be developed or used to represent sections, units, internal departments, programs, initiatives, research centres, institutes, groups or communities that are wholly owned by the University;
(c) the UniSC logo cannot be used by students, student clubs or associations, or staff for assignments, outside work, unless using pre-approved branded templates, or with written approval from Marketing and Communications;
(d) the use of the UniSC logo (or the logo variants) and corporate identity must adhere the UniSC Brand Guidelines;
4.3 Marketing, advertising and campaigns activities must be centrally managed by Marketing and Communications.

4.3.1 To ensure adherence to this principle:

(a) all design and production work intended for external audiences, must be undertaken by designers, producers or other suppliers briefed and managed by Marketing and Communications;

(b) all design and production work must be approved by Marketing and Communications prior to production, this includes any advertisements that are not paid for by the University or are partially paid for by the University and which carry the UniSC logo;

(c) Marketing and Communications appoints and manages advertising agencies to provide professional advice, media and creative services for corporate branding and program marketing campaigns and other key projects. All agency briefs are managed through Marketing and Communications with the exception of employment advertising which is coordinated through People and Culture; and

(d) external organisations are not permitted to advertise in UniSC print, online and web communications.

4.4 University’s internal and external marketing and communications activities must be completed in a standardised approach and coordinated in a sustainable manner.

4.4.1 To ensure adherence to this principle:

(a) the University expects that staff will use the channels and associated tools for University purposes and in compliance the Staff Code of Conduct – Governing Policy;

(b) all University marketing and communications activities are undertaken in a sustainable manner and in accordance with the Sustainability – Operating Policy; and

(c) all information disseminated to staff through MyUniSC is published by trained content authors to ensure it is relevant, accessible, accurate and appropriate in tone, content quality and quantity, and is aligned to reinforce the University’s vision and strategic priorities.

5. Policy

5.1 Media relations

5.1.1 All media relations activities, contact with any media outlets and media visits to any University campuses or facilities must be directed through Strategic Communications.

5.1.2 During a critical incident, all communications with the media must be arranged and managed in accordance with the Critical Incident Management - Governing Policy.

5.1.3 The Vice-Chancellor and President, is the principal spokesperson for the University’s response to government policy (including action or decision of a government or political party) and corporate issues.

5.1.4 Academic staff are encouraged to share their expertise with media on matters of community interest.

5.1.5 All staff who are likely to be required to do media interviews should seek to complete the approved media training program.

5.2 Student recruitment

5.2.1 Marketing and Communications develops and delivers marketing strategies to recruit domestic students for undergraduate and postgraduate programs. Program-specific marketing plans are developed by Marketing and Communications in collaboration with University Schools.

5.2.2 Any requests to engage in activities relating to student recruitment must be immediately referred to the Manager, Future Students.

5.2.3 Marketing and Communications is responsible for developing and maintaining an audience of highly-engaged contacts including schools (primary and secondary), prospective students and community members. The Customer Relationship Management (CRM) system is a tool which facilitates direct, scalable outbound communication with these audiences, ranging from mass content dissemination to one-on-one relationship management. Communications with prospective students and schools must be managed through this CRM environment.

5.2.4 Domestic student recruitment

5.2.4.1 Marketing and Communications manages the University’s program of communication and engagement with primary and secondary schools. This includes:
(a) building and maintaining relationships with schools, guidance officers, career advisers and teachers;
(b) coordinating the representation of the University at a range of school events including school visits, careers expos, subject selection evenings and awards evenings;
(c) overseeing all communication to schools and their school communities (including parents and guardians); and
(d) developing school engagement, outreach and student recruitment activities for students and teachers.

5.2.4.2 Domestic student recruitment events are managed by Marketing and Communications. No other area of the University are permitted to have a separate presence at events unless requested by Marketing and Communications.

5.2.4.3 Communication and engagement with schools is coordinated by Marketing and Communications. All staff outside this department are not permitted to initiate contact with schools for promotion, marketing or student recruitment purposes.

5.2.4.4 Staff requested by Marketing and Communications to represent the University at domestic student recruitment events must receive a relevant briefing by Marketing and Communications prior to attendance.

5.2.5 International student recruitment

5.2.5.1 The International Office is responsible for international student recruitment both directly and via recruitment agents and overseas institutions from which international students are sourced. The International Office must:
(a) ensure that its student recruitment and related marketing activities are consistent with the requirements of the ESOS Act and honour the standards of the associated National Code;
(b) work within the brand parameters developed by Marketing and Communications; and
(c) ensure that any international student recruitment activities in Queensland schools are consistent with the recruitment requirements for domestic students.

5.3 Student ambassadors and volunteers

5.3.1 Student ambassadors are current students who are trained and paid to deliver various student recruitment and community engagement activities on behalf of the University.

5.3.2 Marketing and Communications is responsible for the approval, management and rostering of student ambassadors.

5.3.3 Students who are present at student recruitment and community engagement events but are not official student ambassadors are deemed to be volunteers. They can be used to communicate with prospective students at recruitment events or engagement activities provided Marketing and Communications approves their use in writing and briefs them on University priorities and messages prior to them attending.
