Assessment 1: On-line tests

Goal: To demonstrate knowledge of economic principles. Economics uses a range of tools and models which may be new to you and which build up as the course progresses. These tests have been designed to help you check that you have understood important new ideas step by step.

Product: Quiz/zes

Format: This is an individual assessment.

A weekly short test containing objectives items will be available on-line. It must be answered within a 15 to 25-minute time limit by choosing or entering the correct answer.

Criteria: Demonstrated knowledge of economic principles and tools

Assessment Task 2: Responses to media articles

Goal: This task will allow you to apply economic theory from the course to demonstrate your understanding of economic stories as reported in the media (such as print, radio, TV, online). In this way, your confidence in understanding real world economic events will be developed.

Product: Written Piece

Format: This is an individual assessment.

The three articles will change in each session and will be available on Blackboard at least three weeks before the response is due. For each article, a template in which you should enter your answers will be provided. Brief answers in your own words to specific questions (totalling no more than the equivalent of 500 words per response) are required. You should type or hand-write into the spaces on the template; hand-drawn diagrams are acceptable. You are required to keep copies as a back-up and must be able to produce these should it be required.

Criteria:
- Demonstrate an ability to conduct economic analysis.
- Demonstrated critical analysis.
- Demonstrated data analysis.
- Synthesis and interpretation.
- Correct and clear argument.
- Grammar, spelling and presentation.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1 Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud, including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Blackboard, are electronically checked through SafeAssign. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work that SafeAssign has access to.

10.2 Assessment: Additional requirements

Eligibility for Supplementary Assessment
Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

a) The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%
b) The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale
c) You have not failed an assessment task in the course due to academic misconduct

10.3 Assessment: Submission penalties

- 10% (of the assessment task’s identified value) for the third day
- 20% (of the assessment task’s identified value) for the fourth day and subsequent days up to and including seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.
- A result of zero is awarded for an assessment task submitted after seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

Weekdays and weekends are included in the calculation of days late.
